MASONIC ADDRESS,

Delivered at the Alexandria Theatre, on St. John's Day, by Br. Caldwell.

WRITTEN EXPRESSLY FOR THE OCCASION.

HAIL! to the day which each revolving year
Brings in its circling course—to Masons dear;
The festal scene of mirth and gen'rous joy,
Of heartfelt pleasure, pure without alloy.
All private discords now, all hatred cease;
One general scene of harmony and peace.
Brothers! the hand of Fellowship now grasp,
And with a pious, fond embrace, enclasp,
Warm to your hearts, those breasts which know no guile;
Receive with pleasure, and impart the smile
Of truth, of virtue, innocence and worth,
Celestial habitants—Oh! how rare on earth.
And ye, fair sisters! whose angelic charms
Wake in our bosoms, soft, but wild alarms—
Whose lovely forms enchant th' enrapt'ur'd eye—
Rouse all the glow of heartfelt ecstasy;
Who, joining all that's good with all that's fair,
Calm every passion, and soothe every care—
Partake those joys which now this day imparts,
And share our pleasure, as ye share our hearts.
Believe—no Mason e'er 'll deceive the fair;
We are examin'd—prov'd—before admitted there—
Our conduct judg'd—our passions circumscrib'd—
Our time is measur'd, and our actions tried—
Obey the plummet's laws, the guage's rule,
The compass's dictates, and the square's control.
O Thou, Omnipotent Architect above,
Whose power all systems in their order move,
Who lights the radiance of the mid-day sun
With splendors equall'd only by thy own,
Who sends the moon to cheer the dreary night,
Who gives the twinkling star his trembling light,
Or bids in order wandering planets move,
Meteors to flash, and comets wildly rove.
O Thou Grand Master of that lodge above,
There Heavenly brothers do thy work of love,
Where all is levell'd, compass'd, squar'd aright—
For oh! can aught be wrong in thy approving sight?
May never discord sunder part those hands
Which we have join'd with our contracting hands;
Let ne'er vile avarice a brother move
To leave that man in want whom he has sworn to love;
May never vice those obligations sever
Which bound us firm in penalties forever;
But may each day in every year, like this,
Be crown'd with virtue, harmony and bliss.

From the Federal Republican and Baltimore Telegraph.

ALLEGIANCE AND EXPATRIATION.

We will suppose that a man after he has been supported, fed, and provided by his parents with all the necessaries of life; after having been led through all the dangerous and deceptive mazes of childhood to the state of manhood; after having, in short, in a thousand instances been protected, cherished and defended from injury, should on his arrival at the age of discretion, address his parents in language like this: I owe you no obligation—I was brought into the world without my consent, and it was nothing more than your duty to provide for the helpless infant to whom you had given birth—you were bound to take the consequence of your own folly and subject yourselves to the charge of my maintenance, and I now renounce you forever. Might not his parents reply, ungrateful monster! it is true we gave you birth—but we might have abandoned you to hunger, to penury, and to want—we have fostered a serpent in our bosoms to sting his benefactors—go from your parental roof, thou paragon of ingratitude! But, we will now suppose that a man whose family was large and expensive, and his means of subsistence small, should address one of his youngest and most helpless children in language like this: my dear child—I am unable to provide for your support and education as I ought—you will, by a continuance in my family, lose many important advantages which you might reasonably anticipate by a residence elsewhere—I have not not been unmindful of your welfare in this painful separation that is now about to take place. A rich neighbor of mine is, by the afflictive dispensation of Divine Providence, rendered destitute of an heir. He wishes to take you into his family, to give you an education as his own son, and for you to adopt his name. In depriving you of one parent, I only send you to another better qualified to advance your prospects in the world.

We will now suppose, for the sake of argument, that this opulent neighbor, who had so kindly adopted the child of this poor man as his own heir, was unfortunately involved in a suit at law with the parent of his adopted child,—what part is this child bound to take in this controversy? On the one hand he is bound by the ties of nature—on the other hand by those of recent obligation. Admitting that as he is now a member of another family, that he is bound to espouse the cause of his adopted father, must he not look upon such a controversy with peculiar pain that brings about an opposition so unnatural!—We are quite willing however, to state this imaginary case in another point of view. We will suppose then that the natural parent is an harsh and cruel parent—that he acts the part of a domestic tyrant, instead of that of a kind and tender father; that his child without his consent flies from the severity of his native roof, and implores protection from the family of an adjoining neighbor; that he enters the family of this neighbor, and is admitted to a free participation of all the rights of the family. If we grant all this and more, does it become the duty of this child, who has thus flown from the parental roof and accepts of an asylum elsewhere, constantly to be disturbing the peace of the family to which he has resorted for protection, by proclaiming that his natural parents are monsters in human shape—constantly to embroil this family in all his quarrels with his parents, constantly to be telling tales to their dishonor! Is it not enough for the master of this family (call him the president of the family if you will) to say, I have nothing to do with your domestic feuds—you are welcome to my house and welcome to my table: but as you have now renounced all allegiance to your native parent and become a member of my family, I have nothing to do with your private quarrels—it is enough for me that my neighbor does me no injury, and if he does, the law is open for redress. This is we believe, on a familar scale, the doctrine of native allegiance as well as of expatriation. A sense of personal respect should induce us to tell no tales to our parents' dishonor, however true they might be; but it is surely the perfection of baseness for a child to tell a falsehood to his parents' dishonor? What shall we say of a man who discloses in the public journals that of all mankind he hates his parents the worst? Is not this complete proof that the child is worse than the parent?

In a work lately published by Mr. Kerly in Paris, entitled "Moral and Physiological Inductions," appears the following account of a phenomenon of intelligence, preserved almost in midst of the complete destruction of the human body. The article is taken from the 1st chapter of the 6th book, where the author treats of the separation of the spiritual being from the material being:

"There exists at present in the department of the Ile and Villaine an individual who, after having lost the use of his eyes for ten years, continued the head of a Financial Administration. Those who approached him attested that he performed his duties with a sagacity seldom in error. A total deafness having compelled him to resign his employment, he confined himself to conducting his personal affairs in the bosom of his family. He has been seen communicating with it by means of moving characters placed in his hands. Though blind, he caused a house of an elegant construction to be built on his own plan, and superintended the execution of it himself. A cruel reduction of his faculties did not prevent him from moulding in wax, a garden of an agreeable taste: and causing himself to be borne to the place, he has more than once, by the exquisiteness of his touch, rectified the labor of the workmen. The rigor of Heaven reserved for him a complete paralysis of the arms, legs, thighs, and the exterior of the body.—Attacked in the last mortal relations he had created, he would soon have become extinct, if in casually rubbing his cheek it had not been discovered that this last sad asylum still remained to his sensibility. Then in conformity with his desires, for he had not yet lost the use of his voice, characters were traced on that part of his face, whence feeling had not fled.—Some initial letters suffice for his intelligence, when he asks questions respecting the material concerns of life. Other objects of conversation have also their abbreviations. This surprising being, in his unexampled misery still retains some sweet affections.—The hand of his wife, of his daughter or of a friend causes his heart to palpitate by some sure but unknown communications. INDIAN NEWS.

Milledgeville, Dec. 18.

General Glascock and colonel Bearly arrived in town last evening for the purpose of making arrangements preparatory to the march of the troops for Fort Hawkins. This morning an express reached here informing general Glascock of the arrival at the Creek Agency of general Gaines. His object in returning to the frontier at the present juncture, is probably to hasten the movement of the militia, whose aid from the smallness of the regular force, is believed to be necessary to the commencement of offensive operations. General Glascock has returned to Fort Hawkins, and the troops under his command will no doubt march forthwith against the enemy.

December 16.

Copy of a letter from major general Edmund P. Gaines to his excellency governor Rabun, (received by express yesterday morning) dated

"Head-quarters, Fort Scott,
December 2, 1817.

"SIR,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your excellency's letter of the 20th of last month. The detachment of militia I have no doubt will arrive in due time to enable me to put an end to the little war in this quarter in the course of this or the next month.

"With a view to ascertain the strength of the hostile Indians in the vicinity of Fowltown, and to reconnoitre the adjacent country, I, a few days past, detached lieutenant colonel Arbuckle with 300 men. The lieutenant colonel reports, that a party of Indians had placed themselves in a swamp, out of which about 60 warriors approached him, and, with a war hoop, commenced a brisk fire upon the detachment. They returned the fire in a spirited manner.

"It continued not more than 15 or 20 minutes before the Indians were silenced and forced to retire into the swamp, with a loss which lieut. col. Arbuckle estimates at from 6 to 8 killed, and a much greater number wounded. We had one man killed and two wounded. The enemy have since succeeded in an affair in which the real savage character has been fully exhibited.

"A large party formed an ambuscade on the 30th ultimo upon the Appalachicola river, a mile below the junction of the Flint and Chattahoochie, attacked one of our detachments in a boat ascending near shore, and killed, wounded and took the greater part of the detachment, consisting of 40 men, commanded by lieutenant R. W. Scott. There were also on board the boat, killed or taken, 7 women, the wives of soldiers; 6 men only escaped, 4 of whom wounded. They report that the strength of the current at the point of attack had obliged the lieut. to keep his boat near the shore. That the Indians had formed along the bank of the river, and were not discovered until their fire commenced. In the first volley of which lieutenant Scott and his most active men fell. The lieutenant and his party had been sent from this place some days before to assist major Muhlenburg in ascending the river with three vessels laden with military supplies brought from Fort Montgomery and Mobile.

"The major, it seems, deemed it proper to retain only about 20 men of the party, and in their place put a like number of sick, with the women and some regimental clothing. The boat thus laden, was unfortunately detached alone for this place. It is due to major Muhlenburg to observe, that at the time he detached the boat, I have reason to believe he was not apprised of any recent acts of hostility having taken place in this quarter.—It appears, however, by a letter from lieutenant Scott, received about the hour in which he was attacked, that he had been warned of the danger which awaited him. I must, therefore, conclude that he felt it to be his duty to proceed.

"Whether he had received from major Muhlenburg a positive order to this effect I have not yet learned. Upon the receipt of lieutenant Scott's letter I had two boats fitted up with covers of plank, port holes, &c. for defence, and detached them under captain Clinch, with a subaltern officer and 40 men, with an order to secure the movement of lieutenant Scott, and then to assist major Muhlenburg. This detachment embarked late in the evening of the 30th ult. and must have passed the scene of action (15 miles below this place) at night, and 7 hours after the affair had terminated. I have not yet heard from captain Clinch—I shall immediately strengthen the detachment under major Muhlenburg with another boat secured against the enemy's fire. He will, therefore, move up safely by keeping near the middle of the river, which, with his vessels and force, is quite practicable. I shall moreover take a position with my principal force near the junction of the rivers at the line of demarkation between the United States and Spain, and shall attack any force near that place, or that may attempt to intercept our vessels or supplies below.

"The wounded men who made their escape concur in the opinion that they had seen upwards of 500 warriors (supposed to be hostile) at different places in the river below the point of attack—of the force engaged they differ in opinion; but all agree the number was very considerable, extending about one hundred and fifty yards along the shore at the edge of a swamp, in a thick woods.

"I am assured by the friendly chiefs that the hostile warriors of the town on the Chattahoochie have been for some time past moving off down the river to join the Seminoles. Those now remaining on that river are believed to be well disposed. One of the new settlers there, however, has been recently killed; but it has been already proved that the perpetrator of this act, together with most of the warriors of this town, (Hightown) belonged to and have joined the hostile party. The friendly chief in the neighborhood promptly dispatched a party in pursuit of the offender, who made his escape towards the Mickasukee town—Onishays and several other friendly chiefs have tendered to me their services, with their warriors, to go against the Seminoles. I have promised to give them notice of the time that may be fixed on for my departure, and then to accept of their services.

"The enclosed paper contains the substance of what I have said to the chiefs who have visited me; several of whom reside south of the Apalachacola.

"The chiefs were desirous I should communicate to them my views and wishes: I felt authorised to say but little, and deemed it necessary in what I should say to counteract the erroneous impressions by which they have been misled by pretended British agents.

"I have the honor to be, most respectfully, your obedient servant,

"E. P. GAINES.

FROM FRANCE.

By the French brig Trois Sosurs, Capt. Moiseau, arrived on Saturday evening, in 55 days from Nantz, French papers to the 17th October inclusive, were received. Their general contents, however, are not of sufficient interest to the American reader, to repay a translation.—Great expectations are held out, that on the meeting of the Chambers, on the 4th Nov. a milder system of government will be adopted. The influence of Russia and England, seem to be contending in the French cabinet.

STATE OF THE MARKETS.

Cotton, slack; manufacturers are afraid of the new crop. Bengals appear to keep the article down. A parcel of that description was sold at Nantz for 161 francs, for England.

Quotations at Nantz, October 17.		At Paris, October 13.
Upland	240f. a 260f.	265f. a 270.
Sea Island	380f.	390f. a 405.
Rice	50f.	60f.
Tobacco,	70f.	60f. a 75.

Extract of a letter from a commercial house in Nantz, to another in this city, dated Oct. 16, received by the Trois Sœurs.

"We avail ourselves of the present opportunity to give a statement of our market. The actual price for cotton, is a handsome one for your planters, who thus get all the profit of the trade. It is now well ascertained that our spinners go losing money. That of course will have an end. We are therefore but little inclined to speculate on a staple so much out of its natural bounds.

"Tobacco must also fall to 5 a 56 before we dare to touch it. Only then we may request your good services to pick us a large parcel fit for French Regie.

"In general, the trade to Carolina has so far given little or no profit to our ports. Cotton has become very scarce on French na ke's, and keeps up at from 245 a 255 for Upland according to quality; 255 a 270f for Orleans; Sea Island, w ich would command 380 a 400f duty paid prime quality is better paid for than ever. In Bengal they go improving. The staple and cleaning some of the best Surat come in competition with American short staple. Many vessels are out to bring some, and many more fitting out (three large ones in this port) for the same purpose. We therefore calculate that your planters must ultimately come down to the old price, say 20 a 22c. and still make handsomely by it.

"Carolina Tobacco is plenty, and the government may have as much prime quality as wanted, from 80 to 90 f. which still leaves something on 38 prime cost.

"Rice is fluctuating, and for a long time will remain very dear. It wants on our market. They paid in Paris till 61f. these three days. At same time sales were made at 52f. for delivering in Dec. and 40f. in April next.

"Bear and Deer Skins are still of ready sales. Logwood, Campeachy, 14 a 15, duty included. Cochineal, wanted. Hides, B. A. very dull. Coffee, very scarce and dear. Sugars command good prices.

"We shall crop almost no wine this year. Cargo is at 800 a 850 per tun.—Brandy, Cognac, 4th pr. 18 a 19 aveliz.

"All sorts of Linen very low. Cotton Bagging, 90c. an ell. Silk Goods very high, and rather scarce."

THE 50,000 DOLLAR PRIZE

Drawn on Wednesday afternoon in the Surgical Institution Lottery, came out to No. 1191. This fortunate ticket was sent by mail to Boston on the 19th Oct. last, from Mr. Cohen's office, the extraordinary success attending whose sales, we have had occasion often to notice heretofore.

By the Favorite, from Havre, the editors of this Gazette have received a copy of the letter of our Consul at Havre, to Mr. Gallatin, on the subject of quarantine. The following is our minister's reply.

Paris, Nov. 1, 1817.

SIR—I had the honor to receive your letter of 17th ult. enclosing a copy of the new quarantine regulations imposed on American vessels; for which please to accept my thanks. I did not fail to make forcible official remonstrances in writing on the subject, but have not yet received an answer.* I have the honor to be, very respectfully, sir, your obedient servant,

We have seen a letter from Mr. Beasley, our Consul at Havre, to a gentleman in this city, which remarks,

"The Duke D'Angouline has promised the manufacturers at Rouen, to use his influence to have the duty on cotton taken off, and it is the opinion that at the next meeting of Deputies, this revocation will take place. [Ibid.

FROM BUENOS AYRES.

Captain Smith, arrived at Newport, in 70 days from Buenos Ayres, informs, that the following patriot privateers, with their prizes, were lying at that place: Mangoree, Capt. Barnes, had taken five prizes, three of which had arrived; Invincible, Capt. Jewett, had taken two prizes; Independence, Capt. Chaytor, had taken a valuable ship from Manilla for Cadiz, on board of which was the Governor of Manilla and suite, and two ships loaded with sugar—all arrived.—The San Martin was also there, with her prizes, a brig loaded with sugar and coffee, and two Portuguese ships, one of which had been given up; the other called the Grand Para, from Bengal for Lisbon, was detained, for firing into the privateer.—The markets at Buenos Ayres were very bad, and the produce of the country high. No freights to be obtained. [Ibid.

Minister of State near the Lieut. General.

In a council of State held on the 27th of last month, His Majesty has been pleased to determine, that no foreigner of whatever nation he may be, arriving by sea, be permitted to land in H. M's dominions without being furnished with a passport duly legalized by the Consuls or other Agents of His Majesty, or in case of no such Consuls or Agents residing at the place of departure, that every Passenger on board of vessels be obliged to produce a legal Passport of the government of the country he comes from—being His Majestry's positive intention, to prevent the admittance of those who, without being seamen, or belonging to the crew of vessels, should attempt, by inserting themselves as such in the Ship's Papers or Bills of Health of vessels, to introduce themselves in a clandestine way, into His Majesty's said dominions.

In transmitting to you this royal decree, I have to inform you, of its having been communicated under this day's date, to all foreign Ministers and Consuls residing in these royal dominions, as well as to His Majesty's Consuls in foreign countries, intimating to them that the same will be put in execution in three months after its date, for vessels proceeding from places within the Straight, and in six months for those proceeding from any port or Country without the Straight of Gibraltar.

His majesty entirely reposing on the zeal and intelligence of his agents, inculcates to them, not to permit themselves to be imposed upon by falsified passports, nor to be too ready in signing the passports of people of lost reputation, and of whom they know, that the government of the place finds satisfaction in getting rid of them, endeavoring in such cases, in the best possible manner, to avoid complying with their wishes—which, by order and in the name of his majesty, I take this opportunity of communicating to you for your intelligence and guidance.

Naples, Aug. 1, 1817.

The Legislature of Tennessee, besides passing a vote disapproving the introduction of a Branch of the Bank of the United States into that state, have passed an act imposing a penalty of fifty thousand dollars on the establishment of any such branch there!

COMMUNICATION.

We have an opportunity this evening of seeing Shakespeare's very interesting tragedy of HAMLET, and I am pleased to observe that the cast of characters is so judiciously distributed among the company, as to leave no doubt of its being well performed. Mr. Caldwell will certainly support the part of Hamlet with more than ordinary ability; and from the circumstance of his selecting it at his benefit in Charleston, we must conclude that he considers it his masterpiece. In an English dramatic work, published some time since, I discover a criticism on Mr. C.'s performance of this very part; in which he is complimented on his general ability throughout, and acknowledged to have elicited, by his new and improved reading, beauties of the immortal author, which had hitherto escaped our penetration. Although the leading features of the play, as well as the catastrophe, have correctly obtained for it the appellation of a tragedy, yet we are not confined to tales of woe, or horror-working thoughts—but occasonally diverted with scenes of laughter and of well-timed mirth. Alexandria, Dec. 30.

IN COUNCIL, December 27.

A message from the mayor was received and read.

The act further to amend the charter of the town of Alexandria, in the district of Columbia, was reported by the committee, and read a first time.

An act to provide for the poor and out-door pensioners, by creating a house of industry and concentrating the charities of benevolent institutions, and private individuals, was read a third time, and passed.

On application of Phineas Janney, it is ordered, That the superintendant of police do cause the alley between Duke and Prince streets, and running from Washington to Columbus streets, to be paved forthwith, from Washington street to the centre of the square, and charge the expense thereof to the applicant.

Mr. T. Vowell, from the committee to whom was referred the petition of Isaac Entwisle, made a report on the subject, which was read.

An act to establish the manner of regulating the town clock, and the ringing the alarm bell, was read a third time, and passed.

Messrs. Janney, Newton, Swann, and Hipkins were appointed a committee to rent all the stalls in the new market-house.

NOTICE.

☞ Having understood that the charity sermon which was announced to have been delivered on Christmas day, and which was delivered in the morning, was supposed by a great number to have been announced for the evening service, (and in consequence of which many were disappointed) the sermon will be again preached in the afternoon on New Year's day, in the Catholic church, Alexandria, at half past four. By this, however, I do not either mean or wish to insinuate, that I am not satisfied with the contribution collected, or that I desire or expect those, who were so liberal on Christmas Day, to contribute again. R. BAXTER.

NOTICE.

☞ The police constables and watchmen are hereby required to be vigilant in the detection of all such persons who shall be guilty of the unlawful and dangerous practice of firing guns, &c. within the limits of the corporation, particularly on Christmas and New Year's Eve. It is hoped all well disposed citizens will aid the public officers in detecting and bringing to punishment every offender of this description. The danger of this practice is much greater than the thoughtless are aware of. By firing guns, especially (as is the practice) in the night, there is considerable risk of setting houses on fire, as well as injury to individuals who may be passing through the streets. Steps will be taken to discover all who do offend in this particular: if detected the penalty of the law will be enforced. Parents, masters and mistresses are therefore requested to restrain their children, apprentices and servants, and not to furnish them with the means of transgressing the law.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living in Prince William county, on the night of the 24th inst. a BRIGHT MULATTO GIRL, nearly white, about 15 or 16 years of age. She is of a very low stature, and very fat; her eyes small and of a hazle color; her hair brown and long; her skin, from great attention, would pass for that of a white person, particularly her hands, which she has preserved from roughness with great care. She carried away many valuable articles, besides her own clothing; (which was costly) such as fine linen shifts, marked with her mistress' name, a costly ring of pearl, several pair of new stockings, muslin habits, &c. Among her own wardrobe was a scarlet stuff dress, which she frequently appeared in when she visited in the neighborhood, with a new straw bonnet, dressed with pink satin ribband, and a tortoise shell comb in her hair.

I WILL give the above reward for taking up and delivering to me in Alexandria, or lodging in jail so that I get him again, negro man WILLIAM, who eloped from Washington, D. C. William is about 28 or 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, tolerably well made, yellow complexion, large mouth, very white teeth, and to the best of my recollection a scar on his right cheek—he is very fond of drink, and when intoxicated is a great reprobate and excessively noisy. His cloathing is not recollected, but as he received his wages before he started it is probable he has furnished himself with a new suit. BENJ. T. FENDALL.

James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,

KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

Lee's Medicine Store,

No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in
Consumptions	the stomach and
Lowness of spirits	back
Loss of appetite	Indigestion
Impurity of b'ood	Melancholy
Hysteric'l affection	Gout in the stomach
Inward weaknesses	Pains in the limbs
and debility	Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.
